INTRODUCTION

The Arizona Game and Fish Commission (Commission) created the annual Local Sportsmen's Group (LSG) Grants Program in 2007 to assist and support local sportsmen's groups dedicated to wildlife conservation. Through this program, local sportsmen's groups and the Arizona Game and Fish Department (Department) are working together to preserve traditional outdoor recreational activities and continue the current funding model for wildlife management and conservation through the North American Model of Wildlife Conservation (NAMWC), which is primarily funded by the sale of licenses and tags in Arizona and nationally. The program is a response to declines in hunting, angling, trapping, and shooting participation nationally.

The LSG Grant program is an element of the Department's strategy for addressing recruitment, retention, reactivation (R3) and preserving these traditions (hunting, angling, shooting, & trapping – HAST). Local sportsmen's groups have played a meaningful role in wildlife conservation, including their role in eliminating market hunting (self-regulation) at the end of the 19th Century, and in the 1930s for dedicated funding from Congress for research and wildlife management programs for state wildlife agencies through the Wildlife and Sport Fish Restoration Act.

There is no cost to Arizona taxpayers for this grant program. The Arizona Game and Fish Department does not receive any of the state's general funds, and operates on a user-pay, public-benefit model. The Local Sportsmen's Group Grant Program is funded from the sale of licenses and is an investment in the continuance of wildlife conservation efforts and outdoor recreation participation in the state of Arizona.

FY 2016 FUNDING WINDOW for LOCAL SPORTSMEN'S GROUP GRANTS

The specific funding window(s) focus for the Local Sportsmen's Group Grants program can change each fiscal year. The 2016 fiscal year grant cycle FUNDING WINDOW is:

“Continuation with Support / Retention Programs”

Priority will be placed on “RETENTION” projects that involve the pursuit, or harvest of wildlife or fish with a license / tag
– AND –
Provide participants a “Next Step” through the HAHWG / Outdoor Skills Network or other Successional Program to move the participant through the Adoption Sequence.

Examples of eligible projects include:

hands-on, mentored hunting / fishing events for beginning participants who have been recently introduced to hunting and fishing. Events that meet the funding window objective, will provide field instruction on pursuit, harvest of game / fish, preparation for consumption, and elements of safety, conservation, wildlife, and lessons on becoming skilled in these arenas AND then connects participants to another successional program. Examples of hands-on events / programs include: hunting (small game, migratory birds, predators, big game), trapping, fishing (stream, lakes, and urban waters), as well as direct outreach communication tools that evaluates, then actively engages past participants to a “next step” of the adoption sequence to move them to “continuation without support” phase.

Grants dollars cannot be used for activities such as, but not limited to: purchasing licenses, tags, stamps or regulatory permits, banquets, raffle prizes; gifts; hunting competitions; and for-profit projects.

All programs must be open to the public. Applicants must meet all state and federal laws and rules. All participants must be properly licensed and stamped for the activity when required.

GLOSSARY OF TERMS

Adoption Sequence Model: Recruitment, and eventually retention is a process that involves 8 stages. One exposure to an activity is not retention. An individual may be in more than one stage at a time. Advancing from one stage to another is individually variable by age, economic, social support, frequency, access, life stage, etc. The stages are: (1) awareness, (2) interest, (3) trial, (4) continuation with support, (5) continuation without support, (6) continuation and proponent, (7) temporary cessation, and (8) permanent desertion.

ARS 41-2702: Arizona Revised Statute, Chapter 24, Article 1 – Solicitation and Award of Grants, details at <http://www.azleg.state.az.us/ArizonaRevisedStatutes.asp?LinkType=htm&Title=41>.

Fiscal Year (FY): The State of Arizona’s annual funding windows are within the fiscal year from July 1 to June 30 of the following year.

Funding Window: Defines the Department’s focus for eligible projects for award in a given grant cycle.

Hunter, Angler, Shooter or Trapper: Types of recreational activities related to the Department’s mission and recruitment, retention and reactivation efforts for the Local Sportsmen’s Group Grant Program. The annual Funding Window provides the focus for the grant target.

Hunting and Angling Heritage Workgroup (HAHWG): An alliance of leaders of industry, conservation groups, youth groups, and wildlife management professionals to synergistically preserve the hunting and angling tradition. The HAHWG's primary program for improving hunting / angling participation rates is through hands-on, introductory, mentored events. For more information, visit www.azgfd.gov/hahwg.

Local Sportsmen’s Group: A group, club or chapter whose primary beneficiaries are wildlife species and habitats, have a multi-purpose conservation focus (i.e. outreach, education, social and biological benefit/objectives) and are preferably regional in nature and focused exclusively within the boundaries of Arizona.

Match: Volunteer hours, equipment, or money contributed by the group in addition to the grant dollars.

North American Model of Wildlife Conservation: The North American Model of Wildlife Conservation is anchored by a Supreme Court decision that decreed that wildlife belongs to the people, and not government, corporations or individuals. It is a set of principles that has guided wildlife management and conservation decisions in the United States and Canada. The model, in Arizona is guided by these seven principles: (1) Wildlife is held in the public trust; (2) Regulated commerce in wildlife; (3) Hunting and angling laws are created through the public process; (4) Hunting and angling opportunities for all; (5) Hunters and anglers fund conservation; (6) Wildlife is an international resource; and (7) Science is the basis for wildlife policy. For more information, visit: http://www.azgfd.gov/h_f/northamericanmodel.shtml.

Next Steps: Next steps are the activities that happen at the Decision to Continue stage and social support phase. This is the “retention” stage and requires multiple and frequent engagements. Next Steps work in conjunction with Social Support. (see Adoption Sequence diagram)

Participant Experience Classifications: The Department has been surveying participants and has identified classifications for participants “levels of support” through three questions, they are: Have you been hunting before this event? Does your immediate family hunt? Does your extended family hunt? Those classes breakdown as follows based on yes / no answers:

- No Support – No, No, No
- Extended Support – No, No, Yes
- Immediate Support – No, Yes, No
- Full Support – Yes, Yes, Yes

Project period: The period of time during which all approved work and related expenditures associated with an approved project are to be accomplished by the participant.

Recruitment: Means trying an activity for the first time such as hunting, fishing, trapping or shooting. A minimum outcome is that the person leaves holding a positive experience and opinion toward that activity and makes a decision to continue or lapse based on many influences. (see Adoption Sequence diagram)

Retention: Means making a decision to continue participating in an activity after having experienced it. Typically the person continues to need support, coaching and practice to become self-reliant. Additionally, this stage of continuation can result in maintaining a positive, economic, social and/or political support for said activity. (see Adoption Sequence diagram)

Reactivation: Is the process of influencing an individual who has ceased participating in an activity back to actively participating through re-introduction. This typically takes elements of recruitment, retention, next steps and social support for shorter and fewer cycles due to past experience, skills.

R3: The acronym for all three elements of programs related to recruitment, retention and/or reactivation.

Social Support: Is a network of social/cultural support that reinforces attitudes and choices, provides outlet to continue trial and development loop, outlet to communicate interests / questions, and provides culture and acceptance. Social support can be many things, events, activities, projects, communication channels, trainings, recreational, photo sharing and much more. (see Adoption Sequence diagram)

Wildlife and Sport Fish Restoration Act: Through federal excise taxes paid by manufacturers on particular items of hunting, fishing and boating equipment, the US Fish and Wildlife Service then provides grant funds to State Wildlife agencies for fish and wildlife and habitat conservation, access, education, and shooting ranges. This “user pay, public benefit” is referred to as the “cycle of success” and key to the North American Model of Conservation.
